SEATTLE ACADEMY'S STREAM BUILDING IS READY FOR THE NEXT GENERATION

TRANSFORMATIVE EDUCATION STARTS WITH COLLABORATION

Great things happen at the confluence of art and technology. SAAS's new STREAM building is a brilliant concept that recognizes the importance of both approaches in finding creative solutions to challenging problems. The SAAS students' vision for their new building challenged many of our assumptions and inspired us to find creative ways to design, locate and budget as many of their desired features as possible.

We thoroughly enjoyed our relationship with the SAAS students, faculty and community and are excited to see where this building will lead these imaginative, inventive young people.

SAAS values its place in the broader community.

Using open space to encourage collaboration.

Natural lighting, operable windows and energy efficient heating and cooling were important to the students.
